

Dear Dr. David Suh,

My "new" smile has provided me renewed self-confidence and many, many compliments from family, friends, and strangers.

There are many things in life that we invest in, for pleasure and comfort. Many of these items are transient, gone and forgotten in a few years time.

The beautiful crowns are an investment that will enhance my life daily.

I would like to Thank-you for making the process as smooth and comfortable as possible for me. You were thorough, and concise when you walked me through the course of treatment that you had meticulously planned for me, and consequently, there were no unexpected surprises, and my confidence remained high. You were proactive in your approach, and this resulted in very little inconvenience to me with regard to my ability to function normally. I was able to eat well and go out in public throughout the entire process. I can't Thank-you enough!

With Much Sincerity, Thank-you.
